Dear Brother

I am extremely happy
I have leisure at last to write you a few lines & was very much afraid you would think I had forgotten you but the hurry of our business at this time of the year quite debarr'd me of the pleasure of enquiring after all your healths &

I have rec'd a letter from Scott 20 August dated the 11th July 1789 which is not worth transcribing here as you may guess what it contains. — I hope you & my Sister still continue to enjoy the felicity you mentioned in your letter to my Brother I wish it was possible for me to spend a short time with you & my other friends in Scotland who I hope to hear are all well; but as that cannot be I hope you will <sup>at least</sup> favor me from time to time with a few lines with an account of the amusements you pursue.

If you have heard anything from Orwin Mackay ~~who~~ sately let me know how he is & whether he intends returning to England soon.

My Brother John has left Doct<sup>r</sup> Huggins sately & expects to return to America next March.

With my Duty to all my Friends & Relations & Sincere love to my dear Jenny

Remain,

Dear Brother

Yours most sincerely

Henry Taylor.
